

Jack and the beanstalk

Once upon a time, there lived a woman and her son, Jack, on their small farm in the country. Jack and his mother were very poor.

They had nothing to eat, so Jack was going to sell their only cow.

Jack met an old man. Jack sold him the cow and got some beans in exchange. The man said they were magic beans.

"What!" cried Jack's mother.
"Oh, silly boy! How could you give away our milking cow for some measly beans."
She threw the beans as far as she could.

In the morning, the beans had sprung up into a big beanstalk. Jack climbed and climbed until he reached the sky.

Jack saw a castle. He ran up the road toward the castle and went inside.

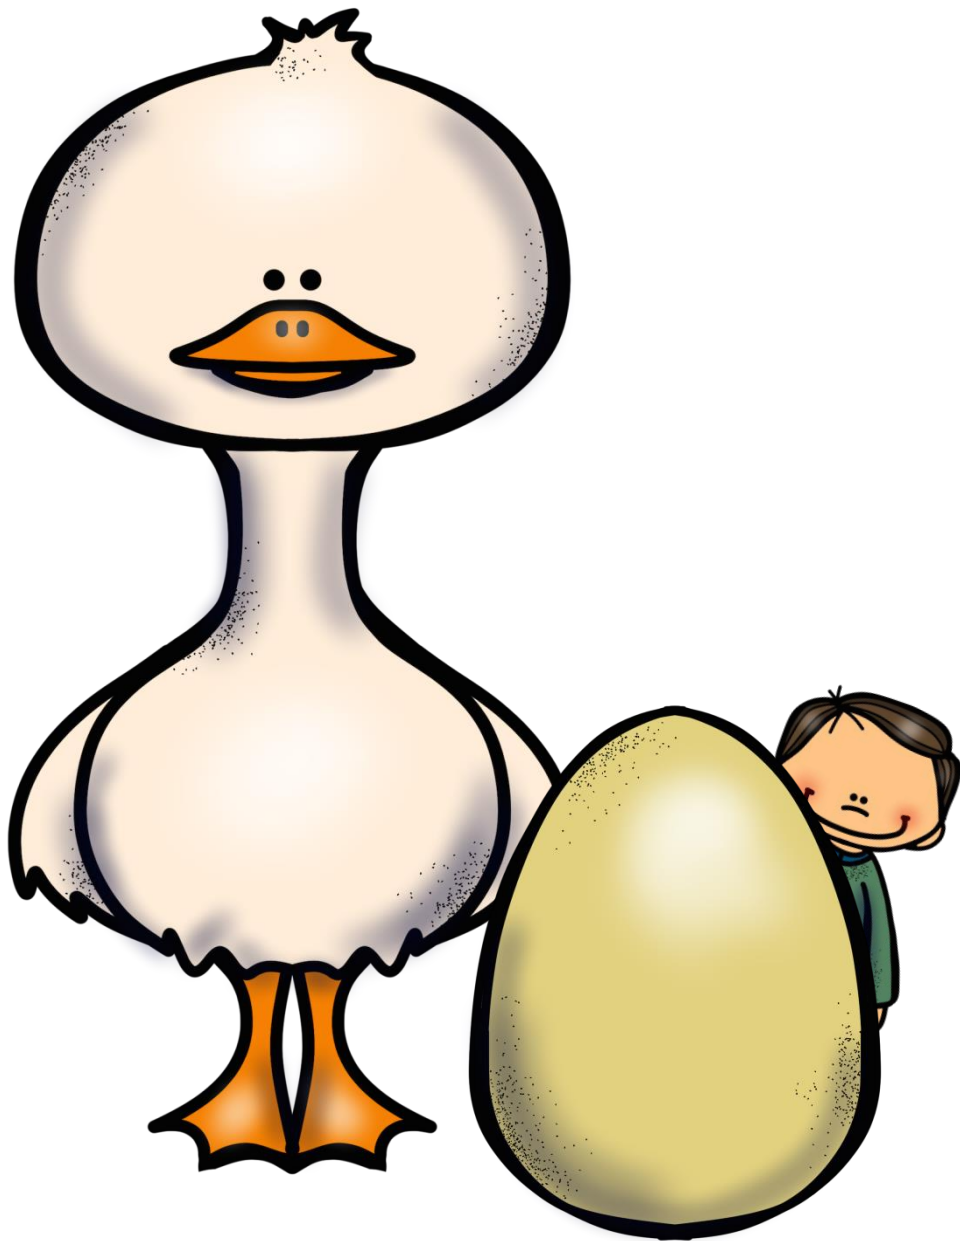

In the castle Jack saw a giant.
The giant was counting a huge amount of gold.

Jack stole some of the gold and ran back to the beanstalk. Jack`s mother was very pleased when he came back with the gold.

The next day he decided to go back to the castle. This time he saw the giant's goose. The goose laid an egg made of gold.

Jack stole
the goose and climbed down the beanstalk as fast as he could.

The third day he decided to go back to the castle again. This time he heard the giant's harp. The harp played lovely music.

Jack stole
the harp and ran off.

Jack and his mother lived happily ever after.

Tack för att du vill använda mitt material!

Du får använda materialet privat och i ditt klassrum, men inte dela det eller sälja det.

Jag har lagt ner mycket arbete på mitt material, så det är användarvillkoren.

Hoppas att du får glädje av materialet!

Christel

<https://www.skolmagi.nu/store/skolkul/>

