How can you use the activity booklet "All about me" with your new class?

This activity booklet is a good activity to give to children at the beginning of the school year. It can be used to help teachers and students get to know each other and share important information.

You can encourage your students to write fun facts about themselves. You can use the activity to encourage your class to get to know each other. Why not try to pair your children and ask them to share facts about themselves.

This activity booklet is a good collaborative exercise, and it can be used to help children communicate. You can also ask them if they have a nickname they prefer or a friend they prefer to sit next to, etc.
