

FRIEND MAGNET

ARE YOU A FRIEND MAGNET?

This is an exercise for students to reflect on friendships and how to make friends. The booklet "Friend magnet" consists of various cards with short questions with an accompanying picture to support the younger students. Have students cut out the cards from the A4 paper and then let the students paste the notes on the three colored papers that match you as a student. There are also empty notes if you come up with several statements that involve being a good friend. The sentences on the colored papers are "I always do it", "I do it sometimes", "I do not do it, yet". Then you as a teacher can work in different ways with the answers, during the lesson, but it is also good to do the exercise several times during the school year. At the end of the semester, you can make a summary in class, how far the students have come as an individual. At the end of the school year, students can get a diploma that is at the end of the booklet, where you as a teacher summarize what the student is good at if the children are younger, but also to do as a surprise for the older students. Or you let the students summarize their results at the end of the school year.

The material "Friend magnet" is suitable for students throughout primary school. The material is also available in Swedish

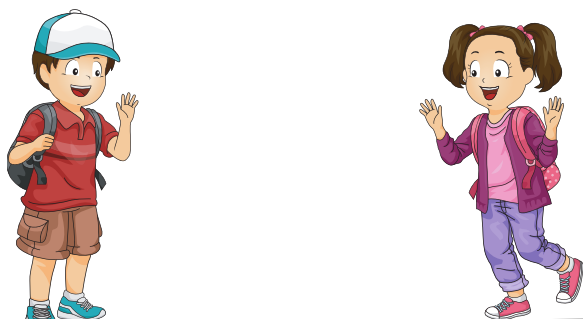

Do you say hello to the person you meet?

Do you let everyone join?

Do you smile at everyone you meet?

Do you give at least one compliment every day to another person?

If you see someone who is sad or angry are you trying to talk to him or she so that he or she gets in a better mood?

Do you make sure that new children in the class, in your free time and in your leisure activities feel welcome?

Do you help if someone needs help?

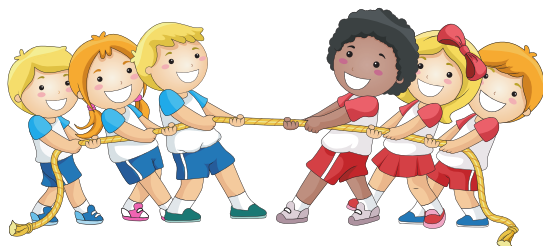

Are you helpful?

Do you say congratulations too the opposing team if they won?

Do you show respect for opposing team if your team wins?

Do you say sorry if you know you has said or done something wrong?

Can you let others go before you in the queue?

Do you approach someone who is alone and ask if they want to join?

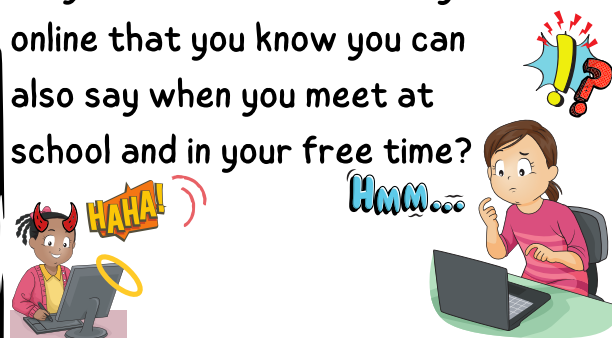

Do you says thank you very much when someone is helpful?

Do you help if someone has hurt themselves?

Do you write and send things online that you know you can also say when you meet at school and in your free time?

Do you include everyone?

Do you listen to a no?

If you find that someone is feeling unwell and does not know how to help them, do you usually ask an adult for advice and help then?

Are you the one who sits down next to someone sitting alone?

Do you tell when people is mean to someone else?

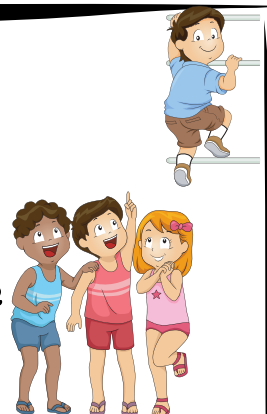

Do you tell when someone is mean to someone else?

Are you a good classmate and raise your hand when you can answer so that all students have a chance to answer?

If only you and a student are left in the locker room, are you waiting for he or she so that he or she will not be alone?

Do you write or say things online that you are sure don't upset anyone?

Are you kind to children who is younger than you?

If you see someone doing something good,
do you praise
them?

Do you share goodies?
unless someone else has?

Do you listen to the speaker
without interrupting?

Do you help clean up after you and your friends have played?

If you live nearby or even a neighbor with classmates, do you make sure you go to and from school together?

Do you say goodbye when you go?
